

Health Professions E-Letter, 6/2004

Thanks to the nearly 1,000 programs who have completed the 2004 Survey of Health Professions Education Programs, which went online in mid-April. Data collected on this survey will appear in the 2004-2005 editions of the Health Professions Career and Education Directory and Health Professions Education Data Book (see below).r this month.

11. Country's only nurse radio venture launched

Launched by the New England School of Whole Health Education, in collaboration with several local and national healthcare and media organizations, Nurseradio.org is the first and only nurse-focused radio show and a nonprofit organization dedicated to celebrating the global contributions of nurses in patient care and providing a voice for today's nurses.

For more information, see: <http://www.nurseradio.org> or call 888 354-4325

About us . . .

The Health Professions Career and Education E-letter is produced by the American Medical Association \(AMA\).

This periodic newsletter covers educational trends and career-related issues for more than 50 professions that participate in the delivery of health care, including diagnostic and rehabilitative services, therapeutic treatments, health or information services management, counseling for psychosocial and cognitive needs, or related services.

Newsletter readers and contributors include staff of health professions accrediting agencies, educational programs and institutions, professional organizations, certifying/licensing boards, and media contacts.

Previous issues are available online at: <http://www.ama-assn.org/go/hpe-letter>

Note: By using any external links on this page, you will be leaving the AMA's Web site. Although the sites are evaluated and reviewed, the AMA cannot guarantee the accuracy of the information that is provided by each of the links, nor does the AMA necessarily endorse the content on any of these links.

Give Us Your Story Ideas and Feedback

What's happening in the world of health professions? If you have any leads or story ideas, please contact us. Also, let us know what you think about this newsletter--and feel free to forward it to your colleagues.

Direct suggestions, comments, compliments, gripes, to

Fred Donini-Lenhoff, Medical Education Products
515 N State St, Chicago, IL 60610
312 464-4635
312 464-5830 fax
fred_lenhoff@ama-assn.org

Subscribe/Unsubscribe

To subscribe or unsubscribe to this e-letter, please send name, organization, title, address, phone, fax, web address, and of course your e-mail to dorothy_grant-bryant@ama-assn.org

Return to Top

Last updated: Jun 09, 2004
Content provided by: Dorothy Grant