

MONA DORSINVILLE-PHANOR, MD, MPH, MPA

- 1991 M.P.A. Harvard University, John F. Kennedy School of Govt.
Masters in Public Administration
- 1987 M.P.H. Harvard School of Public Health
Masters in Public Health
Behavioral Science/Health Education
- 1985 M.D. Universidad Central del Este Medical School
Dominican Republic
- 1985 Medical Rotations at Martha Eliot Health Center/CHMC at the Lemuel Shattuck Hospital, Harvard Medical School and Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston

Cross Cultural Health Care Teaching Experience

Since 1986, Dr. Mona Dorsinville has lectured and taught on the subject of cross cultural health care and the importance of cross cultural competencies for medical and health care providers.

Dr. Dorsinville has lectured and served as Adjunct Faculty at numerous Boston area colleges and universities including: Tufts University, Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Northeastern University, Bentley College and the University of Massachusetts, Boston.